Deal each player six cards face down. Players arrange them into three columns of two cards. Before play: Each player flips two cards up in different columns. If they match, player can put both of them into one column. If not, they stay where they are. Then, each player flips a third card up. Play: Players take turns drawing a card OR using top card of discard pile. Goal is to "match" both cards in a column, resulting in "0" score, or to score as low as possible. If player chooses to play a card (either from the draw or top discard), they must turn up and discard the card they are replacing. Player MUST discard a card each round. Player can opt NOT to flip last card up. There is one last round of play after any player flips their last card up.
